

WORLD CLASS

BON COURAGE GETS INTERNATIONAL AWARDS

It is no secret that Bon Courage is in a class of its own. Year after year this Robertson winery has been among the "Top 10" of South African wine producers. It is also increasingly being recognized in international competitions.

This year, however, has been exceptional. After winning Gold Medals at Syrah du Monde in France for both the Inkara Shiraz 2005 and 2006 as well as being awarded a medal for Best South African Shiraz, the estate has just received another Gold Medal for the Inkara Shiraz 2006 from THE INTERNATIONAL WINE AND SPIRIT COMPETITION in London.

This is one of the toughest and most influential wine competitions in the world, where less than 2% of all entries receive a gold medal. In 2008, a total of only 107 such medals were handed out worldwide, five of which went to South Africa.

And if this was not enough, Bon Courage Cap Classique (Jacques Bruere Cap Classique 2004) in addition to a Gold Medal, was given the Trophy for the BEST BOTTLE FERMENTED SPARKLING WINE entered.

Together with five other producers, Bon Courage was also shortlisted for The Dave Hughes trophy for SOUTH AFRICAN WINE PRODUCER OF THE YEAR. Bon Courage – A truly world class wine estate.
